"I have been a guidance counselor for 33 years and find Choices to be the most thorough resource I have ever used. Students are better prepared for leaving high school when they use Choices."

- Nicolas J. Pallotto

North Clarion County Schools, PA

"The Choices program provides the information necessary for the student to make informed decisions about their career and transition planning. Students who have utilized the program are measurably more prepared than students that only have access to the basic curriculum."

- Joyce Montgomery, Transition Program Supervisor

Vallejo City Unified School District, CA

Choices has been America's favorite and most widely used Career Information Delivery System (CIDS) for more than 20 years.

BRIDGES
Explore • Plan • Achieve

Engage students in an interactive process that builds self-knowledge, encourages exploration of occupations and majors, and helps plan for the future.

Be Accountable

The OnTrack accountability system lets you review each student's assessment results and progress. Easily relate and respond to their interests by reviewing their focus lists of occupation and education options. Customize local administrative reports to document your career development and transition programs.

Expand Self-Knowledge with Assessments and Surveys

Help students gauge their skill level in a variety of employability areas using the Basic Skills Survey. The Interest Profiler identifies interests by the six R-I-A-S-E-C interest areas. The Work Importance Locator assesses six work values and relates them to occupations. Students can compare their assessment results with the factors typically required for success in a variety of occupations!

Dynamic Portfolio Supports Student Planning

Choices' interactive Planning Tools is a powerful electronic portfolio that helps students develop education and career plans by suggesting high school courses and post-secondary education based on students' selected career pathways. Students will focus on the transition to higher education and employment using the school to career, job search and resume writing activities.

Self-Guided Interactive Student Research

Enrich career exploration with links to more than 200 online career videos and key Guideways that provide guidance relevant to students' objectives by suggesting next steps based on what they've started or completed. Students easily work on their own, saving you time.
